A. GENERAL INFORMATION

For the purposes of this bulletin, service enterprises are businesses that are providing non-taxable services as outlined in Section C. For rental businesses and businesses providing equipment with an operator or service component, please see Information Bulletin PST-72, Information for Rental Businesses. For oilfield services, please see Information Bulletin PST-13, Petroleum Drilling & Well Servicing Contractors.

B. REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS

Service enterprises are required to be registered with a PST number. A registered consumer number is issued to businesses that do not provide taxable services or make retail sales but purchase taxable goods and services for business use. This number cannot be used to purchase goods or services without paying the PST.

C. NON-TAXABLE SERVICES

Certain services are subject to PST. The Provincial Sales Tax Act and The Provincial Sales Tax Regulations list and define the services that are subject to tax. The list of taxable services is provided in Section I of this bulletin. Services that are not within this list of taxable services are non-taxable.

Examples of businesses providing non-taxable services include the following:

- Banks
- Car washes
- Daycare centers
- Disposal services
- DJ services
- Fitness/wellness centers
- Healthcare services
- Landscapers
- Limousine services
- Spas/beauty salons
- Tanning salons
- Tattooing services
- Taxidermists
- Towing and boosting services
- Travel agencies

D. GOODS AND SERVICES FOR OWN USE

Service enterprises are required to pay tax on purchases of equipment, supplies and taxable services used in their business and in providing their services. If they are purchased from a licensed supplier, the tax must be paid to the supplier. If they are purchased from an unlicensed supplier, such as one located outside Saskatchewan, the tax must be submitted with your return on the laid down cost, which includes currency exchange, transportation charges, customs and excise duties and importation charges, but not the GST.

E. INCIDENTAL RETAIL SALES

Service enterprises that make incidental retail sales of goods from their tax-paid inventory must collect the tax from the customer. The tax that was paid to the supplier on the items that are sold may be deducted from the tax collected from the customer, and the difference reported on the return form.

F. CONSULTING SERVICES

General consulting and advisory services are not subject to tax provided they are not included in the sale of taxable goods and services.

The following are examples of non-taxable consulting services:

- Management consulting
- Development of marketing strategies or business plans
- Special events co-ordination
- Communication plans

The following are examples of taxable consulting services:

- Computer consulting related to the delivery of taxable computer services¹
- Legal consulting services²
- Consulting services included in the sale of taxable goods or services. Taxable services are outlined in Section I.

G. TRAINING SERVICES

Training services that are not a mandatory part of the sale of taxable goods or services are not subject to PST. This includes training services such as safety training and first aid training. Tax must be paid on any equipment and supplies used to provide the services.

When training services are mandatory and form part of the consideration paid to acquire taxable goods or services, PST applies.

H. TRANSPORTATION SERVICES

Businesses such as common carriers or couriers hauling goods on behalf of others are not required to collect PST on their services. The purchaser or consumer of these services is required to self-assess the tax where applicable. The transportation company is required to pay tax on all equipment and supplies used in providing their services as outlined in Section D of this bulletin. Note that vehicles registered inter-jurisdictionally are subject to the Prorated Vehicle Tax.³

Freight or delivery charges that are invoiced to a customer for the shipment of a taxable commodity are subject to PST if the supply point originates outside Saskatchewan. If the supply point originates in Saskatchewan, the freight or delivery charges are not taxable providing the charges are invoiced separately or segregated from the taxable goods on the invoice.
